

Khari Slaughter

Artist, UI/UX Designer, and People Person

Passionate creative with an eye for precision.

In the past 3 years I moved to France as an Au Pair, became fluent in French, dropped out of Parsons School of Design, lead the design team at a tech startup, moved to Berlin, learned to code, and started working on a new language learning platform.

Recent Work Experience

Developer & Designer

Company:	Caterpillar
Website:	www.caterpillarapp.tv
Dates Worked:	May 2016-now

Caterpillar is a desktop app for learning languages via movies and subtitles. The intent of this project is to empower people and to exercise my passion for teaching and language.

Designer & Instructor

Company:	Bitfountain
Website:	www.bitfountain.io
Dates Worked:	September 2014-March 2016

I am responsible for over 40 hours of recorded video instruction on the Bitfountain platform in UI/UX design. Over 110,000 students have taken our online video courses. I lead the design operations for 1.5 years. We were completely bootstrapped.

I design, code, and teach. I'm responsible for much of the UX on our site, and I am a self-motivated team player, comfortable with the challenges of remote work.

Hustler

Company:	Life
----------	------

Following graduation and preceeding my life in Europe, I moved to NYC with no plan. By the end of the summer I worked at IconicTV (YouTube management firm), at ROX Art Gallery as an assistant, and at Oblik Studios doing metal furniture fabrication and design.
